Instructions

1. Pickled onions (make ahead if you can): put the sliced onion in a heatproof jar or bowl. Bring the vinegar, water, salt, and sugar to a boil; boil 2 minutes; pour over the onions and let cool.
2. Beans: heat a little oil in a pan over medium heat. Add the cumin seeds, crushed red pepper, and jalapeno if using; heat until fragrant, about a minute. Add the beans and cook, mashing as they heat, until thick but not pasty, about 8-10 minutes. Take off the heat and stir in a squeeze of lemon juice.
3. Beef version: heat a pan over medium-high heat. Add the ground beef as one big clump and sear/brown the outside before breaking it up; then cook through, breaking it into crumbles. Turn OFF the heat and stir in the taco seasoning.
4. Chicken version (instead of step 3): season the chicken pieces with salt and pepper; cook in a hot oiled pan until cooked through and lightly browned, about 8-10 minutes. (A marinade is fine sometimes, but plain salt and pepper is the norm.)
5. Salad: toss the sliced romaine and diced tomatoes with salt and pepper.
6. Sauce: stir all the sauce ingredients together.
7. Warm each tortilla in a dry pan until soft and pliable.

Yidi's own recipe, dictated in chat on 2026-10-22. Versions: Beef (the usual, default) or Chicken; jalapeno is optional anytime. Makes 4 burritos. No rice — ever (Yidi was explicit). Sauce proportions and bean spices are reasonable estimates; the taco seasoning amount (about 1 tbsp) is Yidi's own estimate.
